

Own Design

Line weight and shadows to show the depth of the drawing. The shadow comes from the sun being at a 45 degree angle. the building's edges are pulled out and pieces of the wall pop out as well. The building wraps around itself. The different levels of the building create different rooms with different purposes.

